Congratulations, Class of 2025!

Today, we celebrate you. Through your own hard work and the love and support of those around you, you have reached a significant milestone: you are an alumnus of the University of Washington Tacoma.

My congratulations also extend to all those who inspired and helped you along the way; I know there have been many. If your journey was anything like mine, inspiration came to you from unexpected places at unexpected times. Your success is partly due to receiving that inspiration — and acting on it.

Your accomplishments bring me hope in uncertain times. You have pursued your education in a complex and ever-changing world, and persisted.

I have seen firsthand your ability to adapt and achieve your goals. That gives me confidence that you will be a force for change in the world.

What you have done is about more than securing a credential to advance your career, although that in itself is praiseworthy. A college degree remains a proven way to overcome structural inequities in our society. A degree can create pathways to lifelong prosperity for yourself, your loved ones, and your community. Your achievement today has the potential to resonate for generations to come.

As you join the ranks of UW Tacoma alumni, remember that you will always be a Husky. I hope you return to this ceremony again as a supporter who has helped other graduates reach this moment, and I urge you to give back generously to your community. We need you!

I offer to each and every one of you my most enthusiastic and profound congratulations.

Sheila Edwards Lange, PhD
Chancellor

Awards & Recognition

Each year at Commencement we recognize outstanding faculty and students. These awards are symbolic of the many hundreds of public servants and thousands of students at UW Tacoma working together to foster a thriving and equitable society.

DISTINGUISHED RESEARCH AWARD & DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AWARD

The Distinguished Teaching and Research Awards recognize faculty members who excel in their respective fields. The Distinguished Teaching Award honors those who demonstrate mastery of their subject matter, engage diverse students both within and outside the classroom, and innovate in course design. The Distinguished Research Award celebrates faculty with notable scholarship or creative activity, generating new knowledge or creativity that impacts their intellectual discipline and contributes to the intellectual climate of UW Tacoma and its communities.

Dr. Martine De Cock has 25 years of experience in artificial intelligence (AI) research. Her work at the School of Engineering & Technology focuses on applied machine learning, with applications in healthcare data analytics and cybersecurity. Dr. De Cock has made key contributions to the emerging field at the intersection of AI and cryptography, investigating privacy-preserving machine learning. Her work includes over 190 peer-reviewed publications in international conferences and top AI journals. She also holds a patent on "Cryptographically Secure Machine Learning," has received funding from the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and National Science Foundation (NSF), and has won prizes at renowned international conferences.

Through an iterative and reflective teaching practice, Dr. De Cock has designed transformative learning experiences, including adapting a course that allows students to develop real-world, career-focused skills to create better AI models. She also led the development of the Ph.D. program in Computer Science and Systems, aiming to expand access for outstanding students from diverse backgrounds. Dr. De Cock's commitment to inclusive teaching, mentoring, and valuing students' experiences has positively impacted the professional and academic trajectories of her students and mentees.

Dr. De Cock is the first professor to earn both awards in the same year.

DISTINGUISHED COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AWARDS

The Distinguished Community Engagement Award recognizes the important and innovative community-based work being done by faculty at UW Tacoma.

Dr. Laura Feuerborn is a professor in the School of Education. Her ongoing efforts to address the lack of mental health supports provided by school psychologists for Tacoma Public School students will have a widespread impact in our communities. Her work with Project Expand and Tacoma Whole Child highlights collaborative involvement with administrators, faculty, practitioners, teachers, and students to make a positive impact and improve mental health outcomes. In addition, Dr. Feuerborn also leads the School of Education's Educational Specialist (Ed.S.) in School Psychology program, where she has partnered with local school districts to create practicum and internship opportunities to benefit both students and schools.

Dr. Weichao Yuwen is an associate professor in the School of Nursing & Healthcare Leadership. Her work embodies the spirit of community engagement and mutually beneficial relationships, notably through her involvement with the Pacific-Northwest Chinese Nurses Association. This collaboration has positively impacted many while strengthening her community-engaged research, scholarship, teaching, and mentorship. Dr. Yuwen tirelessly supports the educational and career advancement of nursing students and nurses from BIPOC backgrounds. Her toolkit for multicultural nursing associations exemplifies how her sustained community relationships make a positive impact. Her work underscores the importance of mutual trust and the co-creation of programs and educational opportunities for the communities she serves, addressing critical community health disparities.

CHANCELLOR'S MEDAL

The Chancellor's Medal recognizes an individual who has been a consistent source of inspiration for faculty and fellow students alike, and who has overcome significant obstacles in order to complete a degree.

Annika Christensen graduates with a bachelor's degree from the School of Interdisciplinary Arts & Sciences, with a major in Politics, Philosophy & Economics and a focus on International Studies.

Christensen is a first-generation college student who grew up in Tacoma. She has worked throughout her education, transferring from Tacoma Community College.

Christensen completed several internships while a UW Tacoma student. She served as a 2024 Washington State Legislative Intern — a competitive internship that requires students to work full-time at the legislature and complete the equivalent of a three-course load. She was placed with the Lieutenant Governor's office, where she provided office support and was given oversight over a wide array of policy briefs and constituent communications. Legislative Internship directors noted that her performance was among the best of all the students they had admitted into the program in the past four years. Following her time at the legislature, Christensen interned with Rep. Marilyn Strickland's (WA-10) office. In this role, she fielded constituent phone calls and helped direct the local Pierce County office in outreach and coordination of government services.

Over this past summer, Christensen secured yet another prestigious internship, this time with the Bureau of East Asian and Pacific Affairs at the State Department in Washington D.C. She describes this internship experience as a "dream come true." In this role, she gained further familiarity with Southeast Asia foreign policy and clarified her interest in this region as her primary area of professional interest.

Following graduation, Christensen hopes to live and work in China or Taiwan and plans to work in public service and give back to her community.

PRESIDENT'S MEDAL

The President's Medal recipient is selected from graduating seniors with the most distinguished academic record. This year's medalist earned a 3.99 GPA.

Katherine "Katie" Callahan graduates with a bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice, with a minor in Sociology.

Her professors feel that Callahan demonstrates an extraordinary blend of intelligence, leadership, and empathy. Professor Eric Madfis describes her as "the best student I have had the privilege of teaching." Associate Teaching Professor Andrea Hill says, "I have never encountered a student who so seamlessly combines intellectual curiosity with a genuine desire to support others." Beyond campus, Callahan has made significant contributions to community advocacy, working to ensure that differently abled students have access to appropriate learning resources in K–12 schools.

Callahan has completed her education while working as a legal assistant and paraeducator. She is the current president of UW Tacoma's Criminal Justice League and served as panel chair at the February 2025 Western Society of Criminology Annual Conference, for the presentation, "A Patriarchal Police State: How the Impact of Dobbs Permeates the Criminal Justice System."

Callahan has also contributed to several manuscripts under review and in progress, including co-authoring, with Dr. Madfis, a book proposal submitted to Temple University Press entitled Mass Shootings and Masculinities: Gender and Cumulative Strain.

As Callahan graduates, Dr. Hill reflects, "Katie is an extraordinary scholar, a thoughtful leader, and a dedicated community-builder. She has elevated our campus through her presence, and the impact of her time at UW Tacoma will continue to resonate long after her graduation—through revitalized organizations, strengthened peer networks, and the higher standard of excellence she leaves behind."

Callahan begins graduate school at the University of California Irvine in Criminology, Law & Society this fall.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic dress worn by scholars originated in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars usually were clerics as well, and they adopted dress similar to that of their monastic orders. Buildings were cold and drafty, so caps and warm, floor-length capes with hoods were necessities. As control of education passed from the churches, the dress was modified in various ways, and there was great diversity in the color and style of cap, gown and hood worn at different institutions. In 1895, a standardized code of academic dress was established that is followed by most colleges and universities in the United States.

At the University of Washington, the bachelor's and master's gowns are black. The doctoral gowns are purple with purple and gold hoods and are distinguished by three velvet chevrons on each sleeve. The matching mortarboard or tam has a long tassel, and is worn over the left side of the cap. The colors of tassels or hoods are distinctive of the candidate's academic program (in most cases). Honor cords identify students who are graduating with academic honors and are worn loosely around the neck and hang down in the front.

ABOUT THE MACE

University of Washington ceremonial occasions begin with the entrance of the University Mace, carried by the faculty marshal, Anne Taufen, Professor, School of Urban Studies. A mace was originally a weapon used by mounted knights for protection. It since has become a symbol of authority indicating that the proceedings to follow have official sanction. The current mace was presented to the University by the Alumni Association in 1961.
